Uploading to Google Video

Once your music video is completed you can upload to google video.

First things first, you will need to create an account.
https://www.google.com/accounts/ServiceLogin?service=videoonline&nui=1&sendvemail=false&skipvpage=true&hl=en-GB&continue=http%3A%2F%2Fvideo.google.co.uk%2Fvideouploadform and click create an account now.

then go to: http://video.google.co.uk/videouploadform

Remember the video file has to be either AVI, MPEG, Quicktime, Real and Windows Media.

Also to use the online upload form the file size needs to be 100mb or smaller.

If your video is larger than 100mb then you must download the video uploader program. This can be found at:

Before uploading your video to Google, we prefer that you encode your video files using mpeg-2 or mpeg-4 codecs with mp3 audio (learn more). To ensure your upload is successful, please follow the steps below. Remember that after you upload your video to us, you'll need to add your video information via your Video Status page.

Install the Google Video Uploader

[Install Windows Uploader] [Install Mac Uploader] [Install Linux Uploader]

If you get stuck in the process, visit the Upload Video Instructions page.
Upload your video file(s) using the Uploader

A. Click the Login button, and enter your account information.
B. Click the Add button to upload one or more video files.
C. Check the box to agree to our Terms of Service.
D. Click Upload now to submit your video(s) to Google.

In order to complete the upload process, you must visit your Video Status page and click "Add Video Info" beneath your Actions column to submit a title, description, genre and other details of the video(s) you just uploaded.

For detailed instructions, please visit our Upload Video Instructions page

Then download the relevant program for your computer, mac/windows/linux

If you get stuck with any of this, there is a help page that can be found at:
